Student Government - This week, Student Government reps will have the opportunity to help set up the Field of Honor in Dennis for Veteran's Day. This will happen during the school day Thursday, 11/7. Students interested in going must talk to their teachers about what work they will be missing first! Also, if any parents are interested in help drive please let Ms. Kast (hkast@cclcs.info) or Ms. Hessler (ehessler@cclcs.info) know.

ART SPARK starts this Wednesday , November 6 and all students should report to the studio at the end of the day. ART SPARK will run from 3-5 p.m. and families are requested to pick up their students promptly at 5 p.m.

National Junior Art Honor Society will meet in the Studio during lunch this Thursday. Students will be nominating NJAHS officers during this meeting.

Thank You Dance Volunteers!! Thank you to Meghan Andrews, Leah Detellis, Tina Edgehille, Fazeela Horne, Kyle Moreno, and all other parents who jumped in last minute to help with set up, clean up, and chaperoning the Halloween dance! We can't do these sorts of events without you! Particular thank you to Tina for helping to take the lead on the decorations, and to alums Molly Kenney, Prim Cullum, Tarin Miranda, and Ella Squire for DJing!

Music

Strings! This week's schedule is as follows: No class Wednesday, Nov. 6 for Natalie because I have a to play a Symphony concert. But Friday, Nov. 8 will run as normal. From 7:30 to 8:30 we will have ensemble as usual for ALL. Please remember to bring your music! Sectionals are first period, Aria, in Mr. Novak's room and second period, Delia, in Mr. Bates' room. See you all on Friday! Mrs. Schultze

6th Grade

Social Studies - The Asia Culture Project was assigned today in class for Groups W, Y, and Z, and will be assigned tomorrow for Group X. Students have four projects to choose from, depending on their interest and what they would like to create. There is a project choice sheet that needs to be filled out and signed by both student and parent, and then returned tomorrow. This is at at-home project, and due Monday, December 9.

7th Grade

Social Studies = Mesopotamia projects should be in the home stretch! They are due TUESDAY NOVEMBER 12. To be complete, a project must have a 3 paragraph introduction, 4 catalog entries (2 paragraphs each), a bibliography and a replica. Students will be presenting to the class on the day they are due. All students are encouraged to take a picture of their replicas before getting on the bus or in the car just in case something catastrophic happens to their model on the way to school. Please note that the Mesopotamia test will be on Monday November 18.

8th Grade

ELA - This week we will start our next unit in ELA! Between now and Thanksgiving we will be reading William Golding's Lord of the Flies. If students are interested in purchasing a copy of the book they are welcome to bring $10 (cash, or check to CCLCS) to school to purchase one of the classroom copies. This way they can mark the pages as they go. The mass-market paperback versions available on Amazon are cheaper, but are quite small, with tiny print and very little room for margin notes. Purchasing one there is an option, but I do not advise it. Any student not interested in buying the book can borrow one from the school.
